Workshops: Creating an App for FGK Portal

1

We created the FGK portal, an all-in-one application designed to meet various company needs, including project management

2

Employing well-established industry tools and a UI system based on Google Material design, our application seamlessly combines design and code for a user-friendly experience.

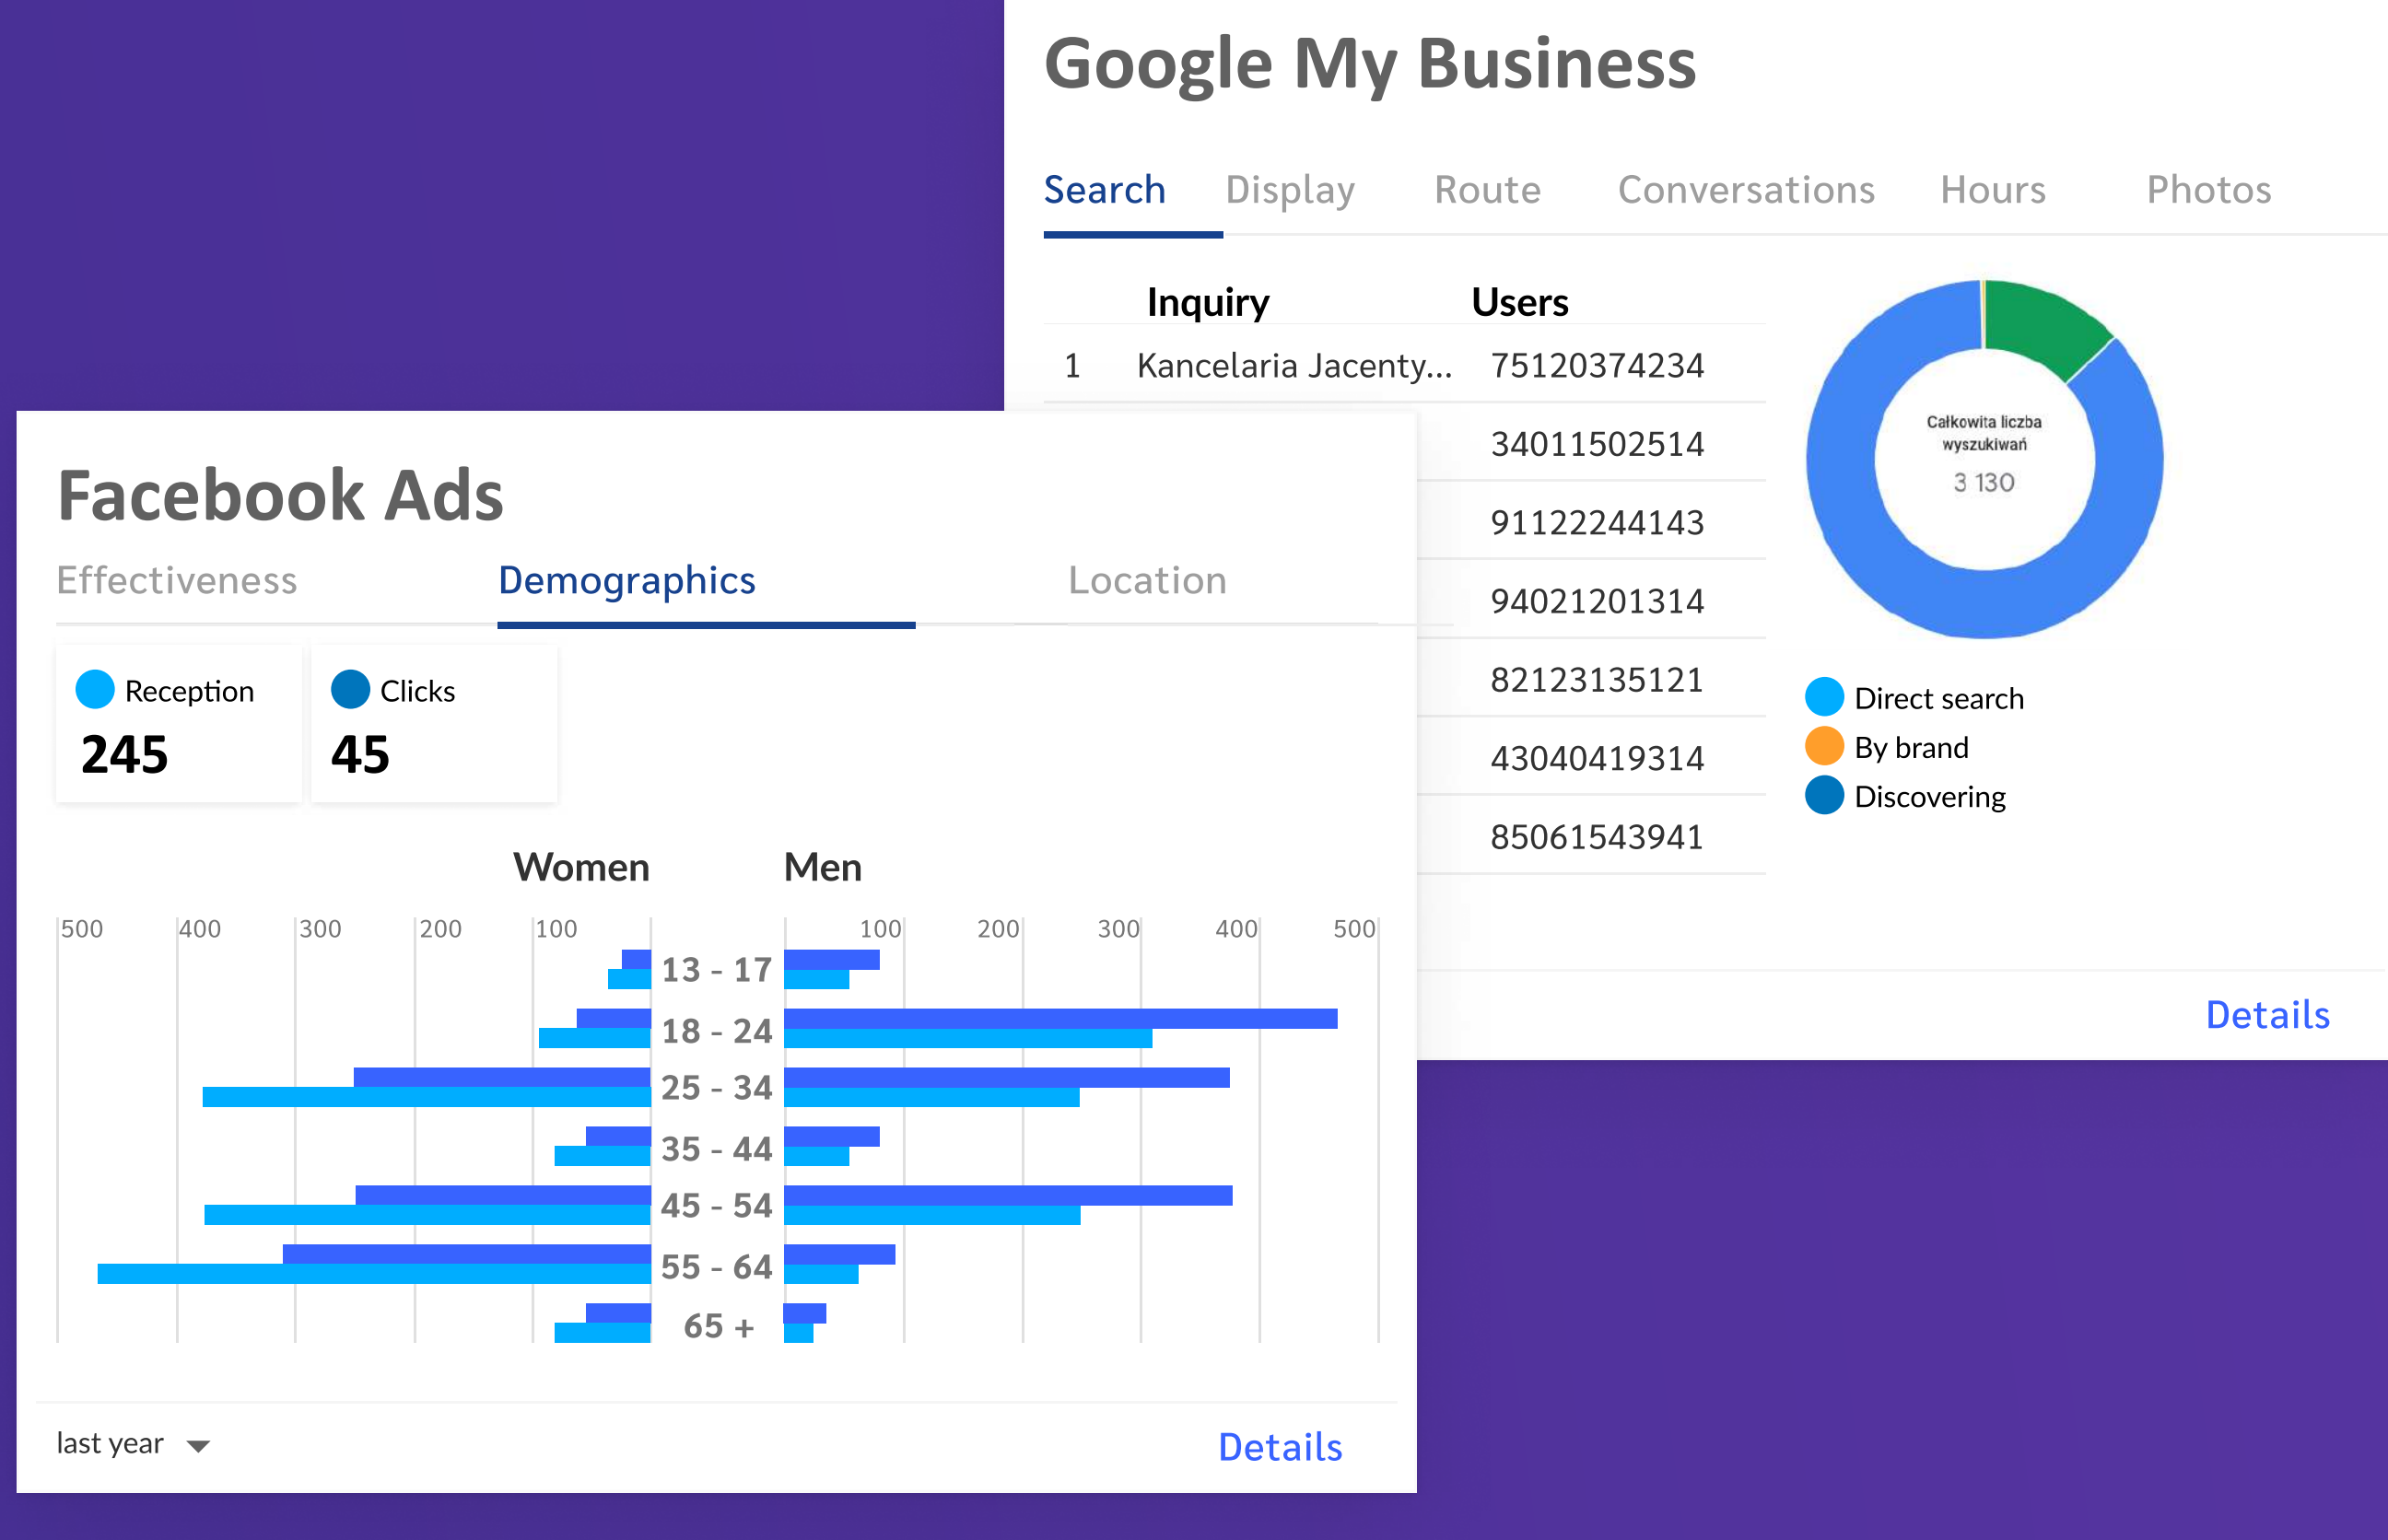

3

Our team successfully delivered a comprehensive solution, addressing multiple business requirements, and ensuring a harmonious fusion of features and user-friendliness.

Designs

The project commenced with the design phase, focusing on creating a unified platform to address various company requirements.

The design incorporated user-friendly elements following Google Material design patterns, ensuring familiarity and ease of use.

Mockup

Design mockups were created to visually represent the application, showcasing its capability to manage projects, handle accounting, facilitate team and client communication, provide access to company analytics, and generate reports.

The interface was designed for intuitive navigation.

Testing

Rigorous testing procedures were conducted to validate the functionality and user experience of the FGK portal.

This phase aimed to ensure that all features worked reliably and provided a seamless experience for users in project management, accounting, team and client communication, and analytics.

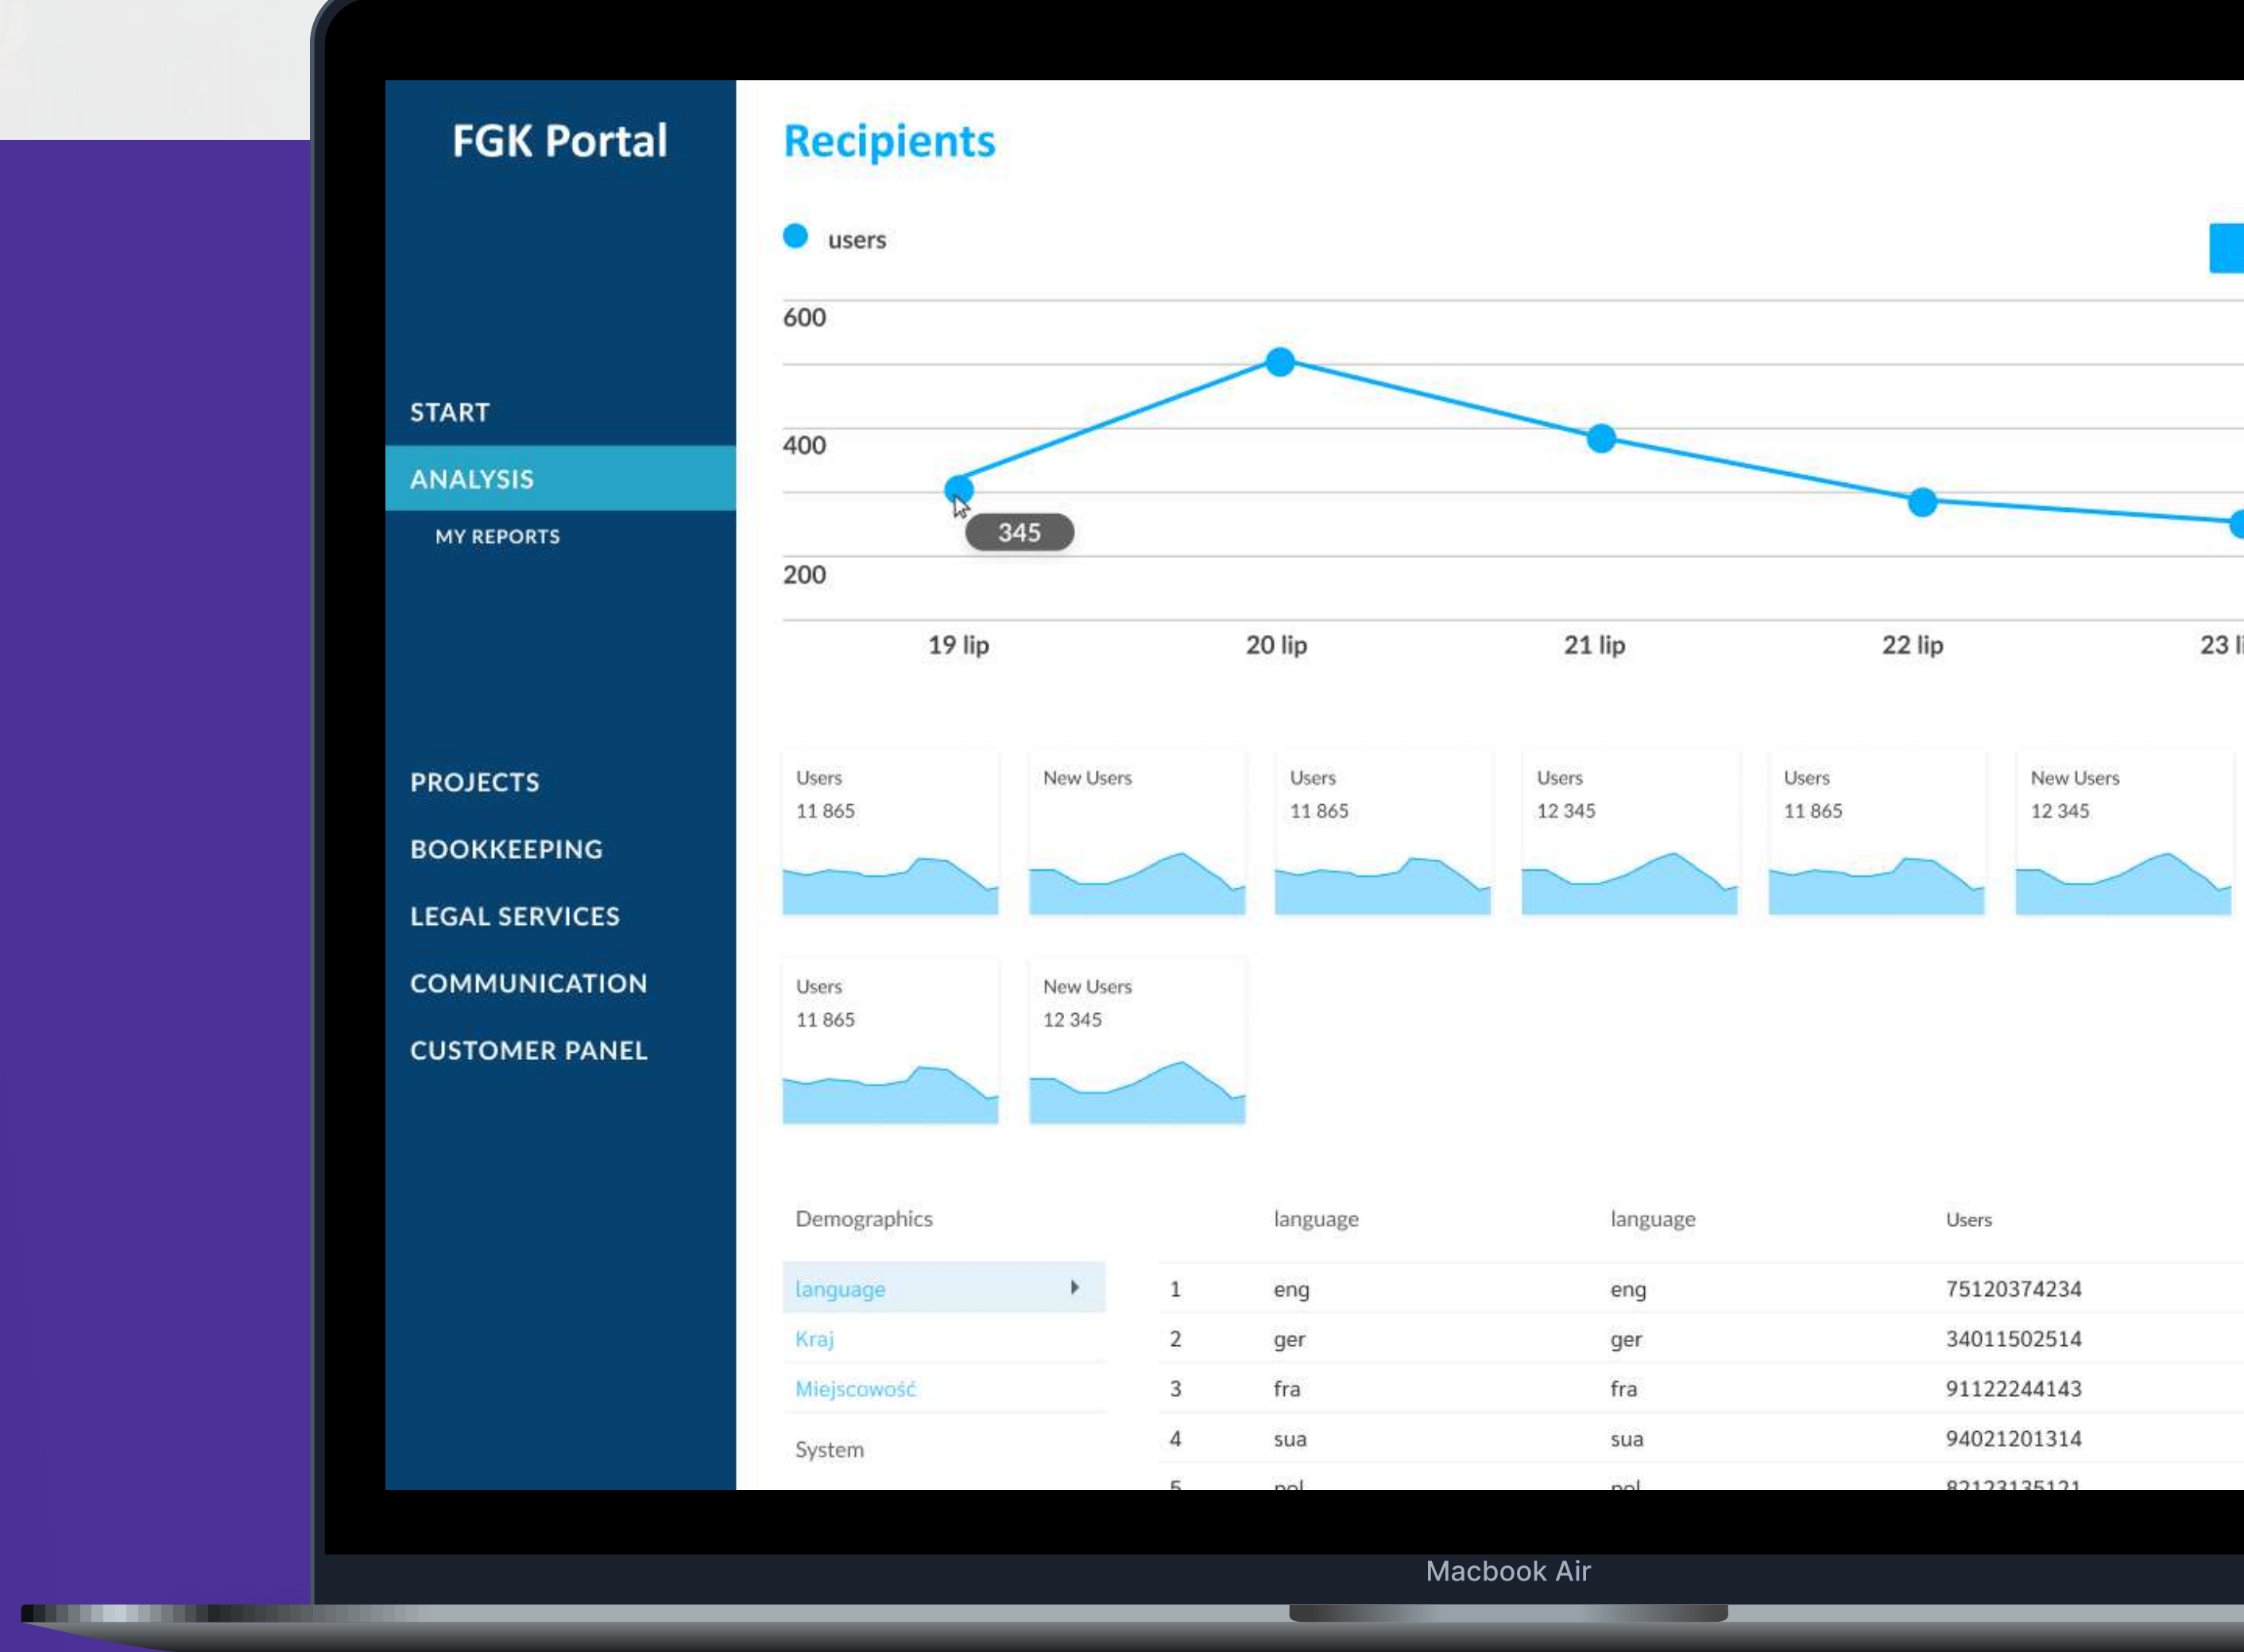

Coding

The development phase involved coding the application using the 300DEVS Angular CDK, a trusted framework based on Google Material design patterns. This choice allowed for a highly functional and cohesive application that could manage projects, accounting, team communication, client interactions, analytics, and report generation efficiently.

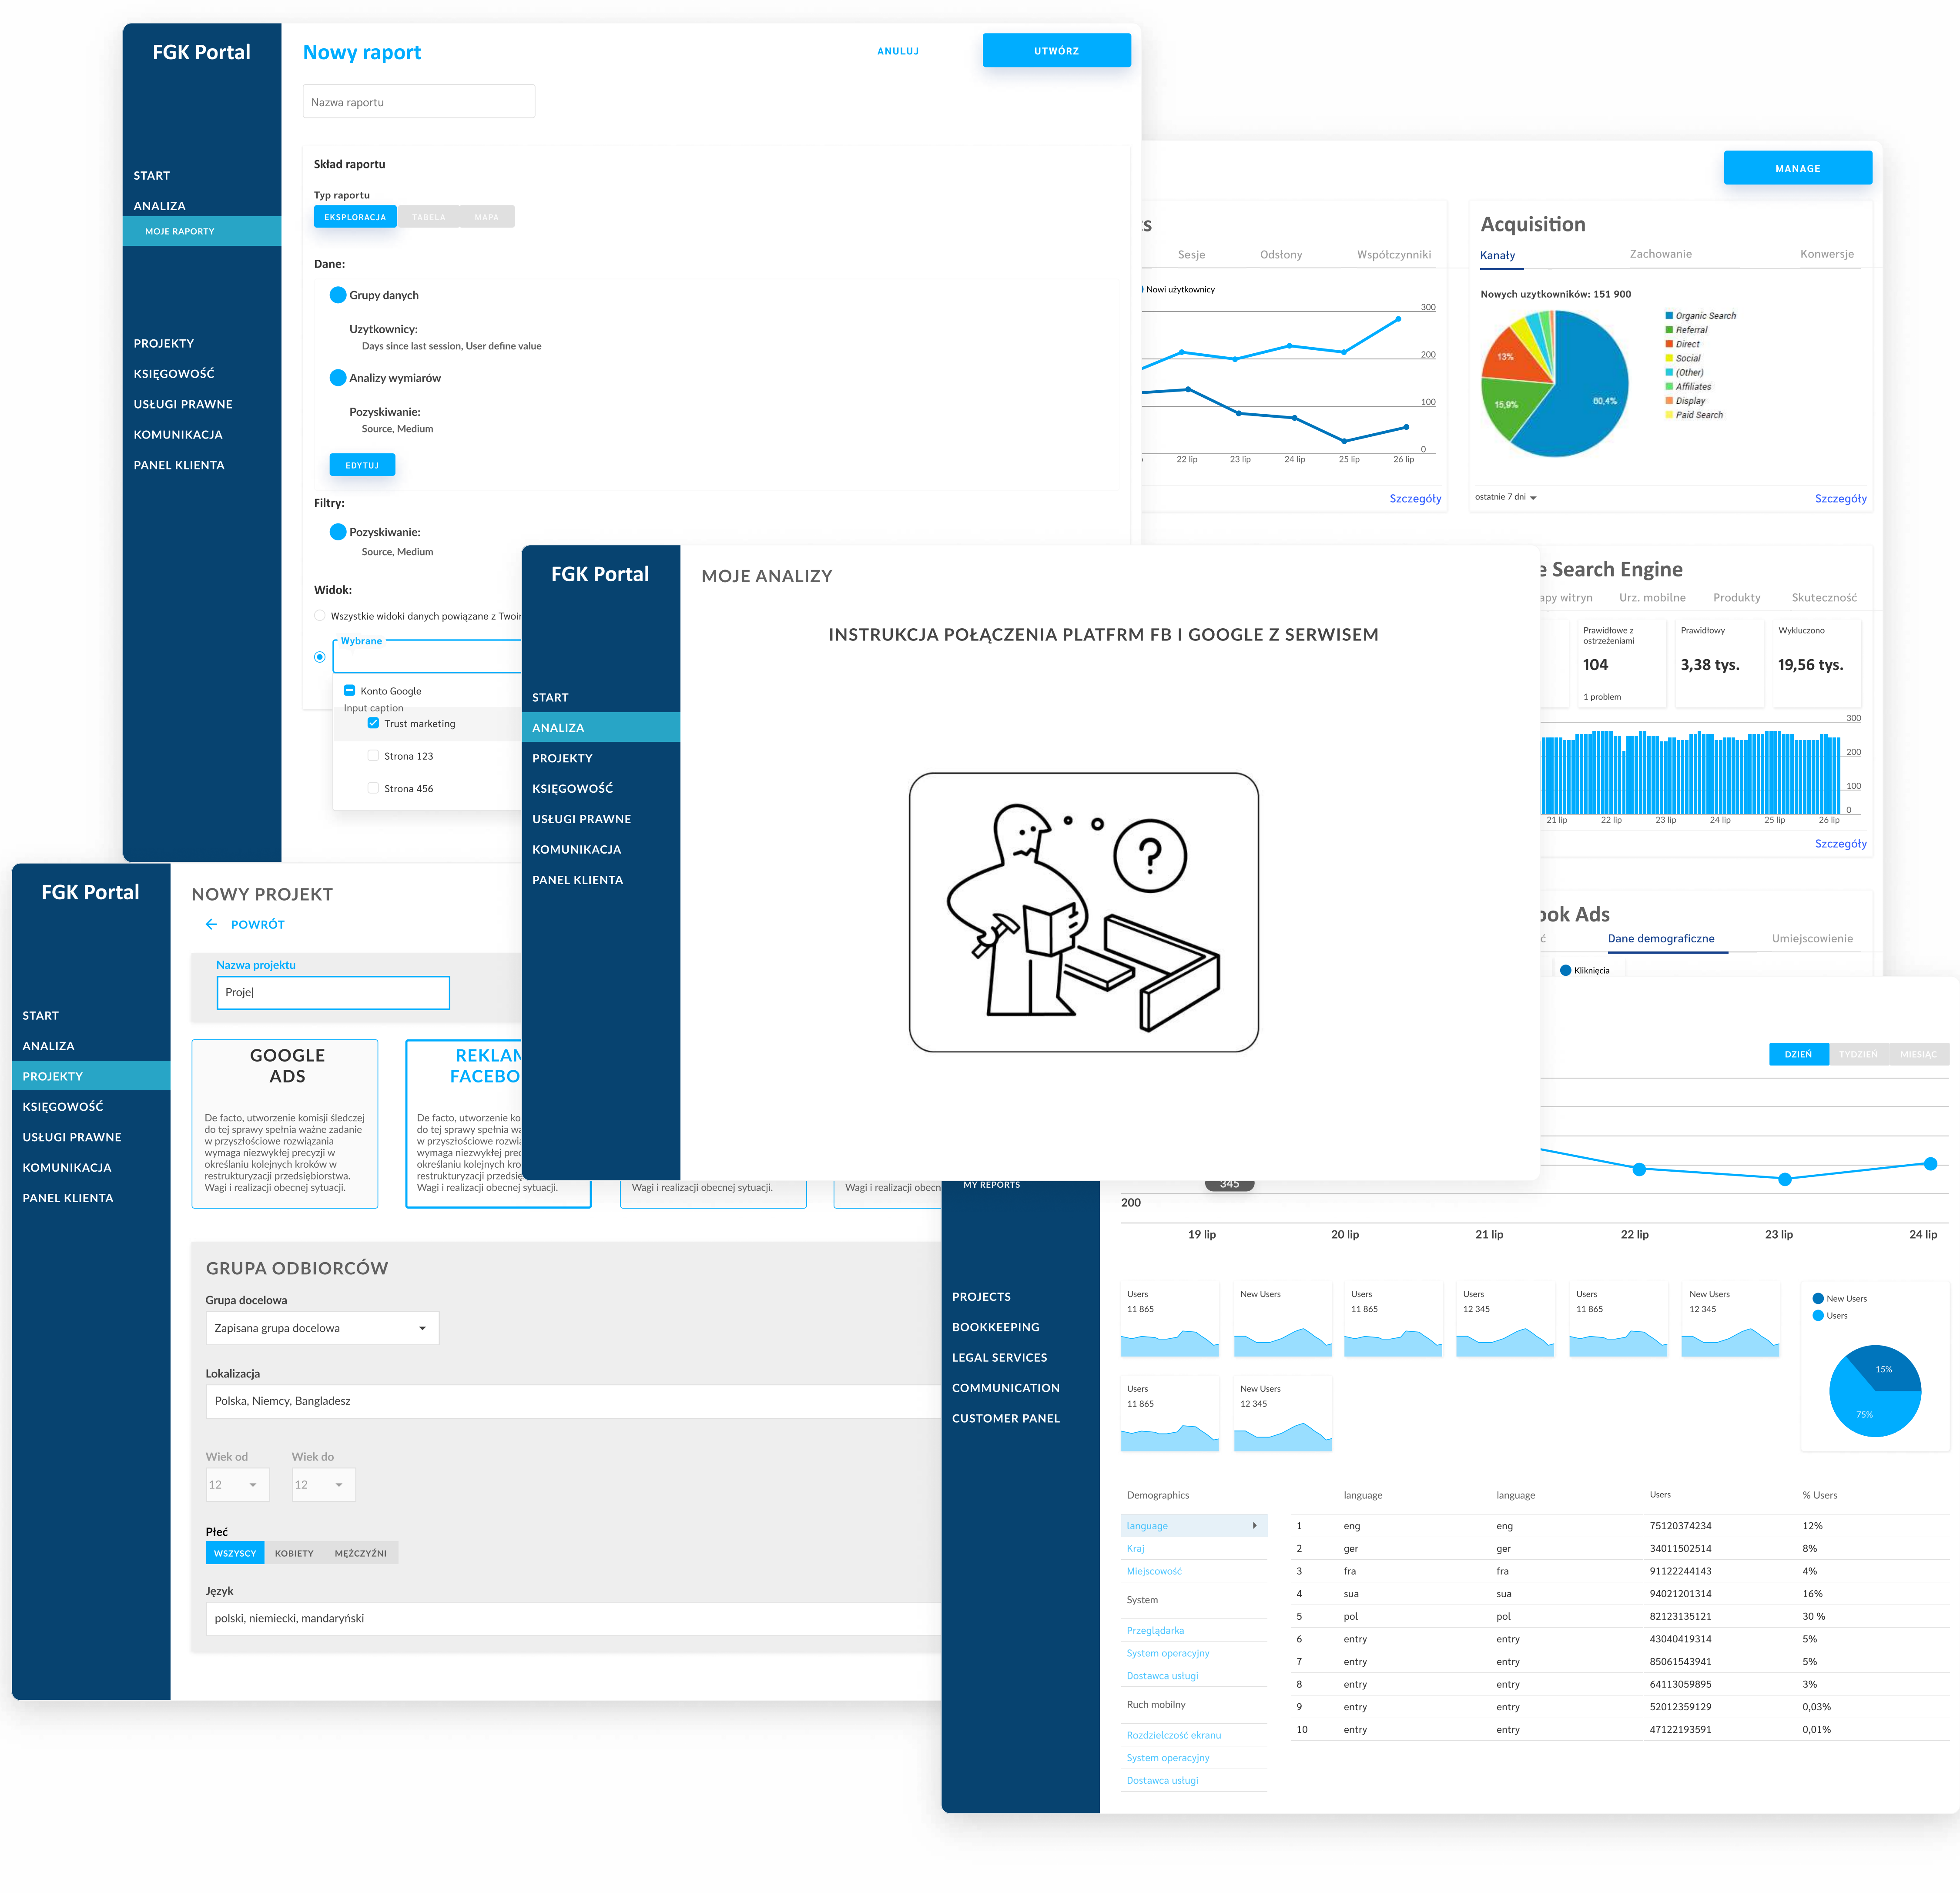

Results

The result is the FGK portal, a comprehensive application that brings together various essential functions for businesses in one place.

Users can effectively manage projects, handle accounting tasks, communicate with their teams and clients, access detailed company analytics, and generate reports as needed. The application's design and functionality are geared towards improving overall company efficiency and providing a central hub for diverse business needs.

Our achievements highlight our commitment to creating the perfect solution for you. Contact us to discuss tailoring an application to your specific needs.
