We created an complex church e-administration system

UX / UI / Development

Workshops:

1

Engineered a groundbreaking e-administration environment, laying the foundation for an ICT infrastructure supporting an extensive e-services system.

2

Comprehensive System Integration: Developed a multi-module system facilitating data exchange and process automation.

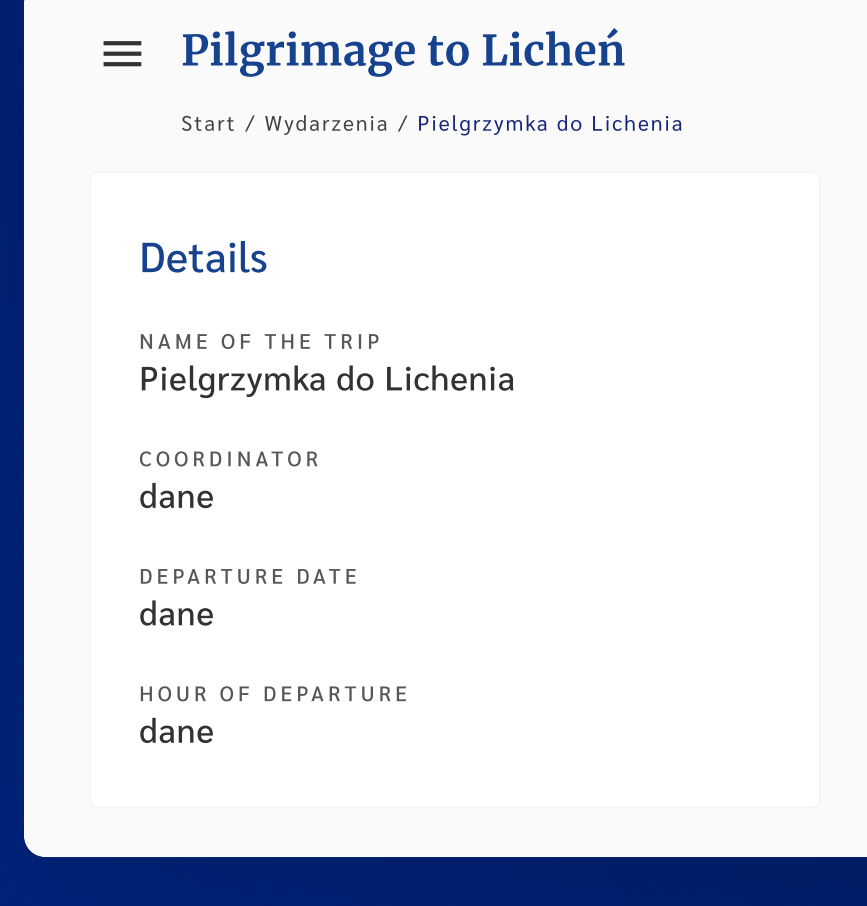

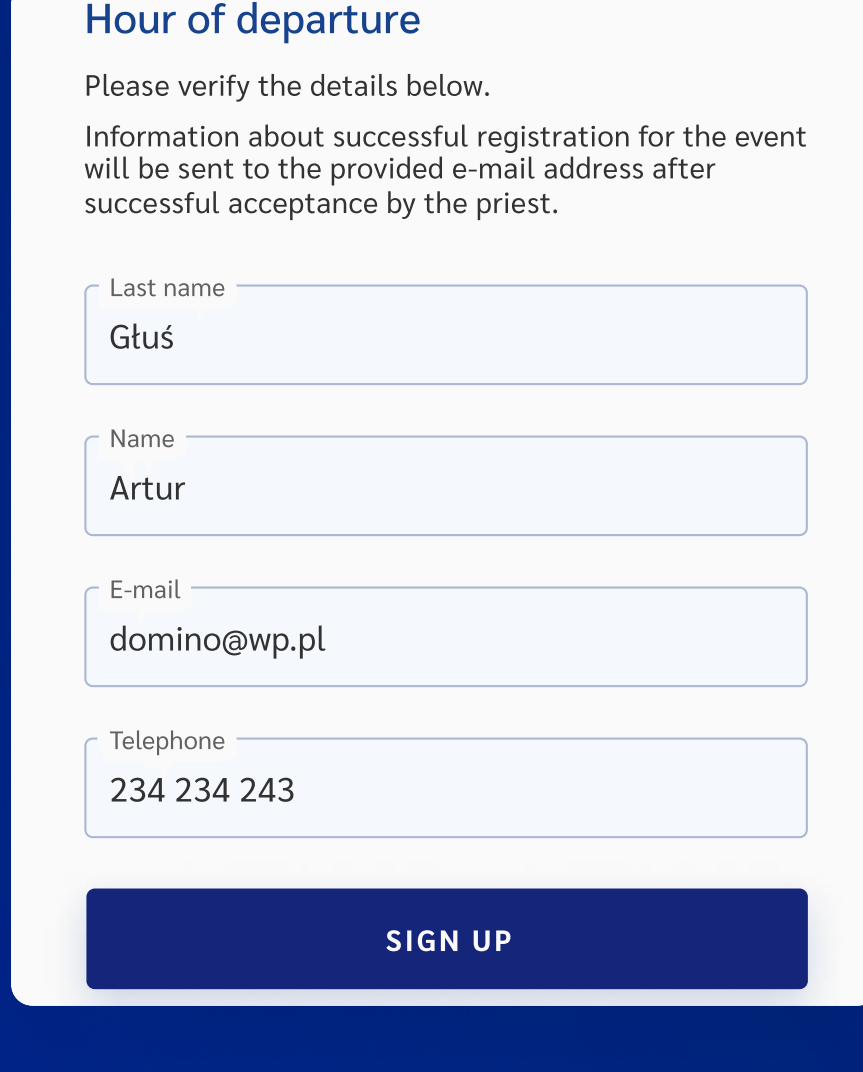

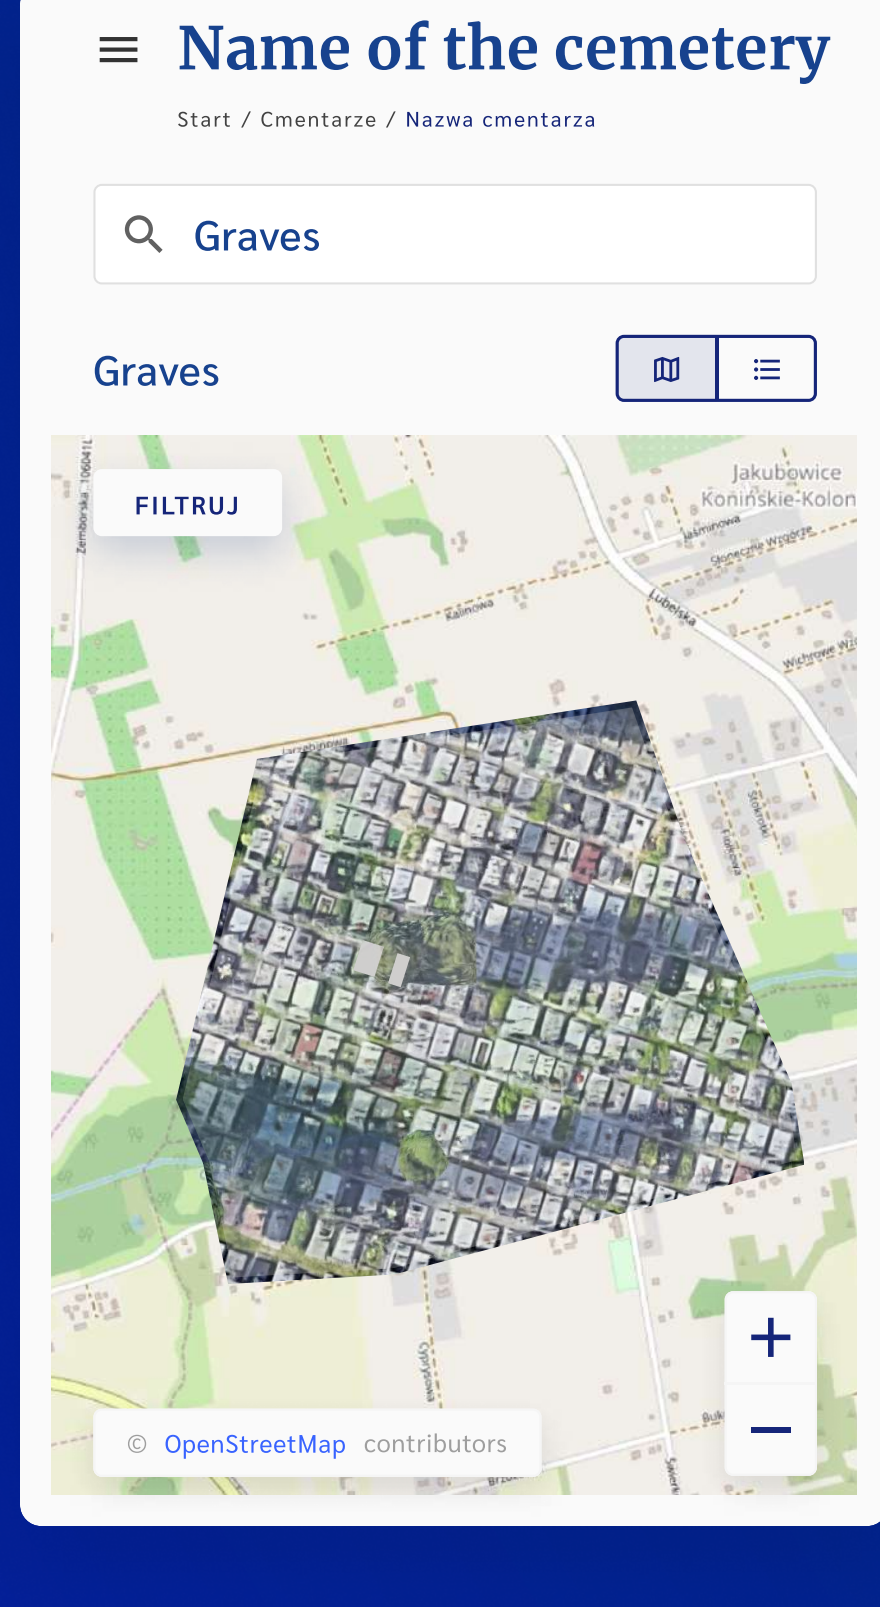

3

Modern Church Management: Transformed the curia's office operations, document handling, and priest database management into a user-friendly and modernized digital version.

Designs

The ecclesiastical e-administration system was designed with a focus on pioneering and user-friendly interfaces.

The design phase included creating visually appealing layouts and intuitive navigation to ensure ease of use for both priests and parishioners.

Mockup

Detailed mockups were created to visualize the user interface, ensuring alignment with the principles of Google Material design.

This stage allowed for feedback and adjustments to optimize the system's appearance and functionality, promoting effective communication and centralized management.

Testing

Thorough testing procedures were implemented to validate the system's functionality, security, and efficiency.

The testing phase focused on data exchange, process automation, and user interactions to guarantee a safe and reliable communication tool for the Polish Church.

Coding

Utilizing industry-standard tools, including the 300DEVS Angular CDK and Google Material design patterns, the e-administration system was meticulously coded. This approach facilitated the creation of multiple modules for data exchange, process automation, and comprehensive church management.

Results

The result is an innovative ecclesiastical e-administration system, centralizing IT processes for remote management, data processing, archiving, and information distribution.

It empowers priests with efficient church administration, allowing parishioners to remotely access documents and address church matters.
